CMGCoin (CMG).

CMGCoin is an ERC-20 token from Ethereum. The Ethereum blockchain, unlike Bitcoin, has been created to be a complete integrated ecosystem. Therefore, its developers created new mechanisms to facilitate certain tasks. An example of this was improving the ability to create new coins "on" an existing blockchain. Something possible with Bitcoin and that we observe in the so-called colored coins. To achieve this, the developers of Ethereum created the ERC-20 tokens.

HOW WAS CMGCoin CREATED?

ERC-20 tokens are, in principle, smart contracts that run on the Ethereum blockchain. They operate within a programmatic framework established by the Ethereum team. This framework is broad enough to allow different uses without interrupting the operation of the Ethereum blockchain. For example, they can maintain subcontracting parallel to the main Ethereum ledger, having their own unit of account. All this, without mixing the Ether balances of the addresses. But by ensuring the transparency, traceability and security provided by the Ethereum network.

With all this, our team decided to create our own cryptocurrency under the Ethereum blockchain and take advantage of all this potential and all the possibilities that the Ethereum network offers us.

WHAT DOES CMGCoin HAVE TO OFFER?

We understand the potential of the cryptocurrency industry, as well as the risks associated with investing. Then we decided to create a cryptocurrency, where interested people can invest with the lowest possible risks.

More importantly, a cryptocurrency that has real utility beyond artificial speculation, therefore with broad usability that can become a growth channel.

All of this resulted in CMGCoin, which creates a perfect balance between potential profit and actual profit.

While we developed the cryptocurrency, the main focus was on profit. CMGCoin hopes to be different by relying on its own core network, to ensure the security and scalability of the platform in the most efficient way.

Integrating all the potential and technology of the smart contracts of the Ethereum network in our payment platform, so that the end user who uses CMGCoin for the payment of digital services, has the highest degree of security and transparency of their payments and hired services.

UTILITY OF CMGCoin

CMGCoin has its own payment platform that can be easily integrated, making it the ideal currency to use on the Internet as a means of payment on any online platform. If we add to all this fast transactions, security of transactions, anonymity, etc. We find the ideal currency.

We also have to take into account the associated services offered through CRYPTO MINING GROUP, the mother platform of CMGCoin, bitcoin trading that work together to multiply profits and a multi-level system that is undoubtedly unique in the world of cryptocurrencies.

Why is CMGCoin different?

ETHEREUM BLOCKCHAIN

Ethereum is certainly a blockchain designed to support a multiple, well-defined and interoperable ecosystem. But these characteristics would not be possible without the use of smart contracts and advances such as ERC-20 tokens. It is thanks to the use of these two tools, that Ethereum has become the second most important cryptocurrency in the crypto world. But that's only the beginning, the evolution of Ethereum as a blockchain is leading to existing projects improving, and new projects adding value to it. Under this scenario, the development of Ethereum and technologies such as ERC-20 tokens is promising. One more demonstration that the tokenized world is possible and that it is only a matter of time to develop it.

TOTAL SUPPLY

Limited issuance of the token to 10,000,000 units with burns programmed to revalue its price. Achieve lasting financial sustainability over time.

ASSOCIATED SERVICES

CMGCoin has associated services through its main project CRYPTO MINING GROUP, which will only add value that most cryptocurrencies don't have.

Investment services in the financial and commercial markets. They make CMGCoin a stable project over time.

**** All of these features are explained with details in this Whitepaper.
